SÆM – Vocals, Keys / Michael Burger – Synthesizers, Beats

Jason Pollux unites voice, the unique sound of an old Rhodes-Piano with analog synthesizers and sampled sound material. All handmade – no laptop.

The songs thematically explore the dynamics of escapism and the longing for a place to call home. The Duo doesn't hold back from depicting hauntingly vulnerable melancholy and trepidation in their songs as well as eccentric outburst into vast electronic sound-worlds and grooves.

Their live performances create a compelling and theatrical experience, while staying authentic and close to the listener.
